Re: Clarification Regarding BC-07 Submission – Intention Host Device (IHD)

1. Acknowledgment

The Budget Committee acknowledges receipt of the BC-07 submission pertaining to the proposed development and deployment of an “Intention Host Device (IHD),” as filed by SIHD under preliminary infrastructure designation.

The Committee further acknowledges the accompanying materials, including conceptual framing, partial technical outline, and illustrative renderings of the proposed device architecture.

2. Clarification of Scope

At present, the Committee finds that the submitted materials do not sufficiently establish:

- Demonstrable demand across any defined user group
- Evidence of sustained interest beyond internal SIHD enthusiasm
- A clear pathway from prototype to distributed object

The proposal, as submitted, is therefore reclassified as pre-demand exploratory.

3. Delegation of Market Determination

Responsibility for establishing demand is hereby assigned to SIHD.

This includes, but is not limited to:

- Observation of voluntary interest within existing MPSoL / MPSoWaL channels
- Measurement of engagement with pre-release materials
- Documentation of funding intent (expressed or realized)
- Identification of acquisition profiles, if any

The Committee will not define demand criteria in advance.

SIHD is expected to recognize it if and when it occurs.

4. Status of Original Application

The original BC-07 application is neither approved nor denied.

It is held in provisional suspension pending evidence of demand.

Upon demonstration of sufficient interest, the application may be resubmitted or reactivated without prejudice.

5. Observational Note

The Committee notes, without formal conclusion, that the proposal occupies an ambiguous position between:

- experimental device
- symbolic artifact
- and possible SIHD internal exercise

It is not presently clear whether this ambiguity is structural or intentional.

The Committee has elected not to resolve this distinction at this time.

6. Informal Addendum (Unratified)

Several members have raised the possibility that this submission may constitute one of SIHD's recurring "non-instrumental constructions," historically characterized by:

- partial technical plausibility
- deferred verification
- and disproportionate narrative density

No formal objection has been recorded.

The Committee will proceed under the assumption of good faith.

7. Disposition

SIHD is authorized to proceed with:

- informal demand testing
- controlled release of descriptive materials
- voluntary funding observation

No funds are allocated at this stage.

No production authorization is granted.

8. Closing

The Committee will review the matter upon evidence of external uptake.

Until such time, the proposal remains in observation.
